A Remarkable Ship.

For the last six years the Rev. C. M. Ramus, rector of East Guildford, England, has held his invention of the polyspheric ship at the disposal of the admiralty. This vessel, it is calculated, will skim the seas at the rate of forty miles an hour or more. The principle of Mr. Ramus's invention consists in making the bottom of the vessel a series of inclined planes. In 1872 Mr. Ramus made a model, having its bottom composed of two parallel and consecutive inclined planes; or the vessel may be described as made up of two wedges, the thick ends of which are placed abaft the thin ends. There is thus in the center of the vessel a ridge where the thin end of the sternmost wedge abuts against the thick end of the foremost. Any floating body thus shaped must, when driven forcibly through the water, tend to rise, and if the speed is high enough it will rise on the surface instead of driving through the water. These facts were demonstrated by some rough experiments made in the presence of credible witnesses. The propelling power in these experiments was a six-ounce rocket. In one trial the model, weighing three pounds three ounces, ran a distance of one hundred and five yards in three seconds. In another it ran four hundred and eighty feet in four and one-half seconds, the water being rippled by a strong breeze, but in spite of this the deck was found to be dry.

Female convicts in the Kentucky penitentiary are required to dress in pantaloons.

A Faithful Sentinel.

Four old offenders, named James Lynch, James McLoughlin, John Riley and Daniel Du Bois, graced the dock of the Central Station yesterday morning, charged with burglarly of the premises northwest corner of Eighteenth and Arch streets. Unfortunately for the thieves, the house was connected with an American District telegraph station by a burglar alarm, and no sooner had the man effected an entrance than the alarm was sounded at the office of the company. This was about 2 o'clock on Sunday evening. An officer of the American Company at once hastened to the premises, and, finding that they had been entered, called to his assistance Sergeant Slater and officer Heims.

Without alarming the burglars the party entered the house, and from the sounds which echoed through the house it was evident that the thieves were busily at work, they being unconscious of their impending fate. A suspicion that they heard an unwelcome noise below caused one of the burglars to proceed on his hands and knees down stairs to ascertain if there was any danger. The officers saw him coming, and patiently waited until he was in reaching distance, and then, throwing a feed bag over his head to smother his cry of alarm, bound him securely and laid him aside.

Presently thief No. 2 started out to find out what had become of the first pioneer down stairs, and he suffered the fate of his predecessor, and was laid beside him. The third man fell into the trap, and was covered up with his companions. By this time the house was well filled with officers, and then a bold charge was made up stairs to ascertain if there were any more left of the same sort. The bureaus and closets showed how industriously the burglars had improved their time during their brief stay in the house. In the garret the fourth and last of the quartette of thieves was pulled from his hiding place by the heels. The men were committed for the action of the Grand Jury, who at once bleaded guilty, and were sentenced by Judge Briggs to six years imprisonment in the East Penitentiary.—Philadelphia Record.

A PENCIL SKETCH.—"Gath" in the Cincinnati Enquirer says: Horatio Seymour, to look at, is very large. Yankee-type of man, six feet or over wearing a suit of black cloth, with long frock coat and with large country boots, well blackened, and a high hat. He has a benevolent face and a pair of rich dark eyes. When you go to see Seymour they send you in some nice white bread and a glass of rich milk and a small cake of delicious butter. Then the amiable, keen old man will entertain you with the most fatherly and beautiful talk. He has a temperament like a woman's. An atmosphere of consideration for you and satisfaction with himself and tenderness for his wife surrounded him. You feel that more than any living man he is the dean and senior of the Democratic party in America. During his life he has hardly ever quarreled with anybody. You can not tell at this moment whether he believes Tilden to be a scoundrel, a genius or a saint. Free in his intercourse, especially desirous to interest Republicans, close with money but hospitable, seldom improving his property in Utica, but proud of the town you rather feel, on the whole, that you are talking with a man who has been president or one who may be.

Work of the "Fifteen."

Some days since a farmer's wagon, containing father, mother, son and two or three neighbors, drove up to a stationer's in Detroit, and the son went in and bought the puzzle known as "15." Even before the wagon drove off the old man had the cover off the box, and was working away like an engine to solve the thing. Yesterday the son returned with the box in his pocket. He had a black eye and an awful lonesome look, and when he came to be waited on, he said:

"You know you sold me this puzzle the other day?"

"Yes, I guess we did."

"Well, we hadn't got a mile out o' town 'fore dad and a neighbor pulled hair over it. While I was doing up the chores dad and mam called each other cheats. After supper we had a three-cornered fight, and the old man got his thumb unjointed and went to bed. Mam and I sot up till she hit me with a stick of wood, and then I went to bed. She sot up alone till she got mad and drove the cat out doors and upset the lamp. Do you hear?"

"Yes."

"Well, next morning I caught dad cheating and we had a little shindy. Then he caught mam cheating, and they had a shindy. Then the Overseer of Highways came along and worked at it half a day, and he and I got into a row, and he blacked my eye. We took it to a barn-raising and the crowd had an awful fight. We took it to a dance and both fiddlers were almost killed. It has been kicked over the house, flung down the well and jumped on in the middle of the road, and now I came in to see if I couldn't swap it for something else. I guess it's a sort of dander-raiser, anyhow, and I guess, if you don't care very much, I'll let you take it back and I'll take a telephone in place of it!"

An American lady in Paris, anxious to inaugurate a novel entertainment, hit upon the idea of a "soap-bubble party." The guests found tables furnished with soap and warm water, and clay pipes gayly bedecked with ribbons, and they vied with each other in the agreeable pastime of blowing bubbles. The more serious business of eating and dancing followed.

Martha, Mary and Margaret Devoe, of Jessamine county, were born to the same parents in the same hour in 1827, and have grown up to be middle-aged spinsters together. When they were young ladies their father exacted from them a vow never to marry and never to separate until death. This promise they have religiously kept.

In 1634, in Boston, John Lee was "whipt and fined £10 for speaking reproachfully of the Governor—saying he was but a lawyer's clerk; and what understanding had he more than himself?" Supposing men were whipped to-day for speaking "reproachfully of the Governor"—wouldn't there be some whacking

A young man in Bridgeport, Vt., thus answered an invitation of a lady to attend a leap-year party: "Dear Miss, yours received—I tumble."

A Call For The House.

A call of the House is always an amusing affair. Members are arrested wherever they can be found, and dragged from swell receptions, from a poker table, or from bed, as the case may be. Even a sweetheart's claims upon the person of her wooer are ignored by the House. The ruthless officials of the House delight to pull in the absentees, and the House enjoys the fun of hearing their excuses and fining or censuring them, as the case may be. The call of the House has been productive of one or two amusing scenes.

Frost, of Missouri, a dapper, boyish looking little fellow, is brought in attired faultlessly in full dress. He has evidently been pulled from the pleasures of social life and torn from alliance at beauty's side. His appearance is greeted with a roar of laughter, and the House with difficulty quiets itself to hear his excuse, and is evidently three-fourths minded not to excuse him, just for the fun of the thing. Very demurely he begins, but he makes a ten-strike: "It has been the height of my ambition, since I have been a member of the House, to catch the Speaker's eye," says this struggling member, and the House is instantly agog; "and this is the first time I have been able to do it." That was all, but the House sees the point and roars. Frost's wit has saved him, and he is excused.

Steel, of North Carolina, a smooth-faced, bald-headed, benevolent-looking old gentleman, with a pink complexion and a fringe of white hair, takes the Reading Clerk's desk and recites "Tom O'Shanter's ride" as his excuse. It serves the purpose, for the House is in good humor, and excuses all who are brought in, including Goode, of Virginia, notwithstanding the fact that he gave his excuse a belief that the House had sense enough to adjourn.

WHY TIDES OCCUR LATER EACH DAY.—As the moon revolves around the earth from west to east, she advances eastwardly in her orbit 13 degrees every twenty-four hours. Hence when any part of the heavens where the moon was the evening before, the moon was not there, but gone eastwardly thirteen degrees, and therefore the earth must turn on its axis as much longer as is necessary to bring that part again under the moon, which requires generally, or always, about fifty minutes.

The same thing occurs the next evening, and evening after, and thus the moon rises during the most of the year about fifty minutes later each day. Now, as the tides are produced mainly by the moon, it will at once be seen from this eastward movement and this later rising each day, why they may occur about fifty.

While the lunar tide is thus daily lagging, the solar tide occurs at the same time. Hence these two tides always begin to separate after new moon, being further apart each day, until they again coincide at full moon, when there is a higher tide than usual, called Springtides. It must not be supposed that the whole body of the ocean, to its profoundest depths, is equally moved by tides. The tides are mainly superficial and except where the water is of moderate depth the lowest parts are only slightly disturbed; but to what depth the tidal current extends can never, perhaps, be satisfactorily determined. The Gulf Stream is about 3000 feet deep, having for its bottom a bed of colder water of various depths: but as the stream is the result of other causes than that which produces the tides, it is not safe to estimate the tidal currents by its own.

AN ARCTIC FRUIT.—The successful expedition of Prof. Nordenjold has proved that the shores of the Arctic sea are not so inhospitable as has been generally supposed. Perhaps the most interesting of the minor discoveries made by the learned explorer is the finding of a new remedy against the dread of all navigators and the particular scourge of Arctic expeditions, namely, scurvy. It appears that there was not a single case of this disease during the whole voyage; and this remarkable fact is due, not to the employment of lime-juice and other antiscorbutics in ordinary use, but to the use of a curious little berry, hitherto unrecognized produced by a plant which finds an ephemeral existence in the snow and ice during the short Arctic Summer. The berries are found in great abundance, and are said to be a favorite fruit with some of the natives of the great ice world. Its flavor resembles that of the raspberry, but is more acid. The mode of preparation adopted on the voyage of the Vega was to dry the berries and then preserve them in the milk of the raindeer, which is then allowed to freeze. In this state the fruit can be preserved for an indefinite period.

France has several agricultural schools for girls. One near Rouen was begun by a Sister of Charity on a capital of one franc. Her first pupils were two little girls, just discharged from prison. The school now has a capital of $160,000 and trains 300 girls, ranging from six years of age to eighteen.

The farm, entirely cultivated by them, is over 400 acres in extent. Twenty-five Sisters form the staff of teachers. More than one medal of the French Agricultural Society has been awarded to this establishment at Darnetel, and the pupils are in great demand all over Normandy on account of their skill. They go out as stewards, gardners, farm-managers, dairy-women and laundresses. Each girl has, on leaving an outfit and a small sum of money, earned in spare hours. If they want a home, they can always return to Darnetal.

One speaker at the recent meeting of the Maine teachers association said wisely that the discipline of each pupil should be a matter of personal study by the teacher, and that the motives for violation of school law should be ascertained, that justice as exact as possible might be administered. Another speaker advocated the system of putting pupils on their honor for good behavior.

Nothing is more certain than that human conduct produces its effect upon human character and determines its future weal or woe. Virtue and uprightness give the pure heart and clear conscience, whose working is an ample reward for effort and sacrifice. Vice and wrong inevitably leave their marks upon the soul, and tend to misery.

It is easy to find fault with the world and its people—to say that everybody is dishonest. But let us be fair and charitable. The world is not all wrong. Everybody isn't a rascal. Our neighbors are not trying to cheat us. If we expect to see honesty we shall have no time to observe [illegible]

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C. April 4th, 1880.

It is evident we have got the Democratic party too much demoralized to do much mischief this session. The elections last Fall prepared the way for a mill tom, e on their part, and the few little speeches and the determined action of the Republicans this year, have combined to confirm it. Of course the fire eaters are not satisfied with any conservatism, but it is clear that the Presidential aspirants in the Bourbon party, and they are many, will encourage and enforce considerative action as far as possible.

But after all the threats that were made to unseat certain Republican members to give place to Democrats, the action of the election Committee was remarkable in voting that neither Washburn nor Donnelly was entitled to a seat from Minnesota. Like a true Democrat Donnelly at once kicked the Democrats who stood for the simplest measure of justice, and he charges Springer of Illinois with corrupt motives in voting that he (Donnelly) is not entitled to the seat. The Democrats who want to steal seats are growing less every day, and Donnelly will find this out when he comes to the polls for a new election. At any rate when we can have the Democrats quarreling among themselves and accusing each other of corruption we may feel pretty safe as to the result of the next campaign.

Congress is still making very slow progress. The appropriation bills are not so far advanced toward enactment as they have often been in January. Only the Pension appropriation bill has become a law. The West Point Academy bill is before a Conference Committee, and the Fortification bill will soon be in the same condition. The House has passed the Consular and Diplomatic Appropriation bill, and has yet to act on the Naval. the Postal, the Legislative and Executive, the General Deficiency, the River and Harbor, and the Omnibus bills. Each one of these will require time for consideration in the House, and will then have to be acted on in the Senate, so that it is almost impossible to terminate the session before July. The next week or two will be very interesting to politicians; many of the States hold primary elections for their Republican State Conventions to prepare for the National Convention at Chicago and several State Conventions will occur. Connecticut is the first, and its delegation will be divided between Blaine and Edmunds probably. On the 14th Iowa, Kentucky and Missouri will also have Conventions, the first will be for Blaine, the second for Grant, and the other divided. Massachusetts will also be divided in its choice.

MAXWELL.

On the 6th instant, at Sacramento, Horace H. Holton, died at the age of 68 years. Mr. Holton was a Pioneer, and was usher at Governor Booth's office during his administration.

Governor Perkins has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the murderers of William H. Philben, killed in San Buenaventura county, on the 11th of December, 1879.

There are four steam yachts now building at Chester, Philadelphia and Newburg. When finished, they are to make a race to Southampton, England; for a pool of $60,000.

The Deadville Vigilance Committee are ordering the lawyers to leave town. This makes the committee solid with the Leadvillians.

Of the fourteen Republican delegates from Sacramento City to the State Convention, twelve are for Blaine and two for Grant.

On the 9th inst., at Galt, a young son of T. H. Fowler died from the effects of injuries received, two days before, by being thrown from a horse.

The Liberals swept England, and Lord Beaconsfield has been, or will be retired. Gladstones is on the surface again.

A private telegram from Portland, Oregon, says five of the six Oregon delegates are for Field.

A vote in the Los Angeles Convention showed as follows: Blaine 34, Grant 8, Washburn 1, Edmunds 2.

Hon. E. Garter, one of the oldest residents of Shasta, died there on Friday night, aged 71 years.

It is estimated that no less than three million acres of wheat have been sown this year in California.

By the death of his brother in New Zealand, Mr. Henry Lewis of Modesto, inherits a fortune of about $25,000.

Never before in the history of Merced county have crop prospects been brighter than at the present time.

The indications are that very little building will be done in Virginia City during the coming Summer.

Bodie is not the only place in want of wood. Virginia City has a famine.

Calaveras County delegates are for Blaine.

The Shasta County Record has ceased publication.

Jim Anderson, late of Louisiana, is about to start a paper at Ruby Hill.

The Comstock.

The S. F. Bulletin of the 9th talks thusly of the famous Comstock:

It is now three months since there has been a dividend from the Comstock Lode. The last was paid by the Opehir on the 15th of January. The California and Consolidated Virginia have not paid their stockholders anything since December 22, 1879. The bullion product of the Lode has fallen off to a comparatively small sum. Only four of the mines are producing a dollar. The promised bonanza in the Sierra Nevada Union Consolidated and Montezuma have not appear in the form of bullion. It is two years since these stories were circulated. Their only value has been to inflate the stock. If there be any such body of ore in these mines as has been reported, it is quite time the public should have unmistakable evidences of it. Two years of preparation, with all the improved appliances for work, would seem to be quite sufficient.

Stockholders are naturally getting impatient at the delay in the uncovering and working of the promised bonanza in the north end mines. During the past two or three years they have been pouring out their money pretty liberally in the form of assessments for development purposes. So long as dividends were being disbursed the market did not feel the strain very much. The confidence reposed in those who were managing the mines also made the payment of assessments more easy. Stockholders have put up over $20,000,000 for work and supplies for mines on the Comstock Lode during the past three years. They are willing to continue to pay assessments so long as they can see a new dollar for the old one.

GOVERNOR PERKINS.—Last week Governor Perkins used the following language, in addressing the M. E. Sunday School:

"There is not a boy I see before me tonight who has less thought of being Governor than I had at his age. Every avenue to wealth and fame is open to you. You have a great responsibility, even if you are not Governor. No matter what your vocation or your position in life, remember that

"Honor and fame from no condition rise;
Act well your part—there all honor lies."

I would rather be trundling my wheelbarrow, as I did once, and be right, than to be Governor of the State of California and be wrong.

Governor Cornell, having signed the bill authorizing the expenditure of $2,500,000 in completing the Brooklyn bridge, work upon the structure will be pushed rapidly forward. It is predicted that the bridge will be open for travel in a little more than a year. About 400 men are now working on the New York approach. The work of tearing down old St. Anne's Church in Washington street, Brooklyn, will be begun in a few days.

The American ship Joseph S. Spinney, arrived at Queenstown, April 8th, having made the passage in the remarkably quick time of ninety-nine days from San Francisco.

This is the quickest on record, except that of a clipper which made it in a few days less time. The Spinney is a 2,000 ton ship, built expressly for carrying, and not for speed, hence this event is more worthy of note.

A late decision by Judge Drummond, of the United States Circuit Court, is one of great importance to business men and married women. He holds that when the property of an insolvent debtor is seized and sold for debt, the wife has the same rights to his share of the estate as if her husband died instead of becoming a bankrupt.

The liberal papers of Belgium publish under the heading of "The Cellar of a Martyr," the information that the contents of the cellar of the late Rev. M. Miroux, parish priest of Nouvelles, a small commune near Mons, were lately sold by public auction, and that among them 2000 bottles of wine brought, in consequence of their excellent quality, four francs each.

Several weeks ago Gen. Canavan cut a corn on his foot until it bled. The wound became an almost incurable sore, his foot and leg swelled, and he became afflicted with severe and constant pains in his side. Fearing blood poison, he took a trip to the sulphur springs, where he remained until he found relief. He returned to the city a day or two ago, but thus far has been unable to wear a boot upon the injured foot. Cutting corns to the quick is a practice which has frequently resulted seriously. The death of the late M. Stamper resulted from blood poison caused by cutting a corn too deeply.—Stockton Independent.

The Democratic primaries in Louisiana have resulted in the election of delegates in favor of Hancock for President, and in no case are they to go for Tilden.

The Constitution says that the Superior Court shall daily be in session, yet those of San Francisco have voted a vacation of two months.

SANITARY.—A meeting of Citizens, was held at Justice Peterson's Office last evening to consider the proposition to construct a sewer for drainage purposes. H. F. Hastings was elected Chairman, and H. Z. Osborne, Secretary. After interchanging views it was decided to telegraph to Assemblyman Wasson for information regarding what action had been taken as to incorporating town. The meeting then adjourned till to-morrow evening. It is hoped that the attendance will be large and that decided action will be taken on this important subject.

STEAMER FOR MONO LAKE.—J. L. Porter & Co., will shortly have a passenger steamer running on Mono Lake. It will be used for towing barges of lumber accross the lake from their mills, and for passengers. It is probable that Mammoth passengers will go across the lake by this boat, as it will shorten the time four hours. Excursions will be made to the many interesting islands where immense number of gull's eggs are laid every season. This steamer will be a rare treat to our people and we predict they will avail themselves of its use.

THE BOOKER.—The foundation for the pump bob will be finished to-morrow, and the pumping machinery will be put to gether and pumping resumed in about a week or ten days, when the Booker works will be as substantial as any in the district, and be able to handle all the water that comes in. Col. Ellsworth has given the work his personal supervision, and is well satisfied with the result.

SUPERIOR JUDGE.—The S. F. Chronicle's Legislative correspondent says:

Every morning for several days past dispatches from Mono County have been read from the desk of the Secretary of the Senate for and against an additional Superior Judge. The occurrence has become such a matter of course as to assume the shape of a standing joke."

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—Ah Yok, arrested last evening for petty larceny, will be tried at 11 o'clock to-morrow morning in Justice Peterson's Court.

J. Burger, for misdemeanor, plead guilty, and Justice Newman fined him $30 or 30 days in jail—he went to jail.

SHINGLE MILL.—A shingle mill has been put up about 8 miles from J. L. Porter & Co's. Mono Lake sawmills, and turns out 20,000 shingles per day. Porter & Co., own one half interest in it, and, within the next six weeks, they will build a saw mill there which will have the capacity of 15,000 feet per day.

IMPROVEMENT.—W. A. Johnson, of the Bella House is having an addition, 12 by 32, in process of construction, to be used as a kitchen. It will be replete with all the modern appliances to be found in the culinary department of a well regulated hotel.

FINE CONFECTIONARY.—Mrs. Swan has opened a confectionary store in Abbot's building on Main street, between Standard Avenue and Mill street. She intends to keep a fresh supply at all times at reasonable prices.

PERSONAL.—W. B. Carr, and some co-owners of the Noonday, are expected to visit Bodie within a few days on a visit of inspection of the Noonday and other mining property in which they are interested.

WILL MOVE.—The Mono Lake saw mill Porter & Co., is to be moved 2½ miles back from the present location, and four miles of flume will be built from the logging camp to the mill.

PLANING MACHINE, ETC.—G. L. Porter & Co. have en route planing, moulding, tongue and grooving machines, which are to be placed in the Mono Lake saw mill and the one to be built at the shingle mills.

JUST RECEIVED.—Choice, Creamy Butter in rolls, from one of the best California dairies at Point Reyes. For sale by Page, Wheaton & Co., dealer in choice family groceries.

QUIET.—To-day has been quiet in Bodie circles—no arrests.

CLEAR LUMBER.—At the Mono Lake Mills are 100,000 feet of clear lumber piled.

OUR MINES.

QUEEN BEE.

J. C. Turner, Supt.

During last week the work in the mine made good progress with satisfactory results. The north drift on the 400 foot level has been advanced 26 feet, making a total length of 317 feet. In the face the ledge is still looking well. It holds its usual width, and shows some very rich ore, The ledge on the 400 foot level for the whole length of the drift is strong and well defined, and carries a good deal of good ore. At a point 30 feet north from the main east crosscut a crosscut has been started west for the purpose of exploring that portion of the ground, and there is every reason to believe that there are a number of valuable veins still west of the present workings and are entirely unexplored in this crosscut. The crosscut is now in from the north drift a total length of 22 feet. The ground in the face is very hard and solid, but of a most favorable character of vein porphyry. Everything about the mine is in good order and condition and the immense body of ore now being developed in the Noonday mines are very encouraging to the future of this claim.

SOUTH NOONDAY.

J. C. Turner, Sup't.

Since last report the north drift 150 foot level has been advanced 13 feet—a total o 87 feet. In the face the ledge is looking well, and is more than the full width of the drift. Samples taken from the face and dump assayed from $25 to $40 a ton. The drift the entire length from the crosscut to the face shows a strong and well defined vein, and the quality of ore steadily improving as the drift advances. The winze from the north drift is now down 20 feet. In the bottom the ore is of a better quality than any passed in the drift, and improves as depth is attained. The ore is soft and decomposed and easily worked. everything about the mine is in good working order.

SOUTH BULWER.

J. C. Turner, Sup't.

Since last report the west crossent on the 550 foot level has been advanced 9 feet, making a total of 50 feet. The ground still continues to be very hard working, with no change to note in the character of the formation. The flow of water still continues to come in very strong from the face. The west crosscut on 500 level has been advanced 8 feet, making a total length of 54 feet. The face is now in a very favorable looking formation, with every indication of cutting the ledge very soon. Some strata of very rich ore have been passed through during the week. The pumps are doing good work and handle the water without trouble.

CHIEF QUEEN.

A. M. Ellsworth, Sup't.

Work at this mine will be resumed within a week or ten days.

Human Sacrifice.

A Burmah correspondent says Mandalay astrologers assert that in order to remove the evil influence a great propitiatory sacrifice is requisite, and that the victims be taken from all ranks, to the 400 number—the priests to contribute 100, the remainder to be men, women and children. Many arrests have been made of victims to be selected from the priests, who have hitherto enjoyed immunity from sacrifice, and they are quitting Mandalay in great numbers. A Catholic convent was entered to procure victims from among the girls there, but the attempt was frustrated. The internal condition of the country is most unsatisfactory but the people, while seeing the folly of King Thebaw's acts, are helpless to effect a change.

Later dispatches say he seven hundred men, boys, women, girls priests and foreigners sacrificed for the restoration of the King,s health, buried alive, not burned under the towers of the city walls. The following is an explanantion of the horror: When a city is built in Burmah human sacrifice are offered. A new monarch usually has a new capital. The evil spirits of Mandalay are irritated. There has been no change of the capital and virtue of the old sacrifice being gone to appease the evil spirits, the astrologers declared it necessary to offer 700 lives. The sacrifices made by order of King Thebaw.

The State Sunday School Convention will be held in Monterey, opening on the 1st day of July and closing on the 5th day. Rev. Dr. Henderson, of San Francisco, will deliver the opening address.

Dr. Charles H. Tozer, of Oakland, has been pronounced insane, and confined in the Napa Asylum.
